

West Michigan Trails

The trail crosses a branch of the Kalamazoo River at Rieger Park.

Albion River Trail

Spend a pleasant afternoon riding along the upper reaches of the Kalamazoo River and through historic downtown Albion on the 1.6-mile Albion River Trail. Completed in 2007, this nonmotorized paved trail connects a series of several city parks as it follows the course of the river. Home of Albion College, the city of Albion marks a confluence of river branches that form the Kalamazoo River. You can witness this convergence of waterways at Rieger Park where several small dams create a series of scenic cascades.
